INFORMATIONAL DATA SHEET

Indiana's "Call Before You Dig" Law

Indiana 811

Indiana's "Call Before You Dig" law, Ind. Code ch. 8-1-26, requires everyone who digs to contact Indiana 811 at least two full working days before starting their project. In 2003, the Indiana General Assembly revised the "Call Before You Dig" law and made it a requirement that all owners and operators of underground facilities become a member of Indiana 811. This law was then amended in 2009 to add penalties for certain infractions.

Pursuant to the statute, civil penalties may include:

1. A warning letter for homeowners/tenants who are first-time offenders regarding a violation in which no one was personally injured;
2. A civil penalty up to a maximum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00);
3. Required participation of employees in a mandatory education and training program sponsored by the Commission; and/or
4. Required development of a plan to avoid future violations, which must receive approval.

Sites with Potential Wetland Impacts

Section 404 – Clean Water Act

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) use the 1987 Corps of Engineers Wetlands Delineation Manual and Regional Supplements to define wetlands for the Clean Water Act Section 404 (CWA 404) permit program. CWA 404 requires a permit from the USACE or the Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) for the discharge of dredged or fill material into wetlands and the waters of the United States.

Jurisdictional Delineations are performed on a property in order to delineate which waters are Waters of the United States and which are Isolated Wetlands subject to IDEM jurisdiction. Most often, a preliminary jurisdictional delineation is submitted to the USACE by the permit applicant, which the Corps then verifies. The applicant can decide whether they would like a final approved delineation or would like to proceed with an application with only a verified preliminary delineation, which makes for a shorter process.
